Abstract

Journal of Food and Health (JOFH) is an open access journal in the field of foods, diets, probiotics, health and fitness. JOFH offer an important media or forum for researchers and academies to exchange the latest results from such research areas. JOFH provides quality service, including the submission process and the rapid double blind peer review, and only published online. Receiving types of manuscripts which include, original manuscripts or original research, literature review, systematic review and or meta-analysis, case report, supplements, commentaries and reports on research methodology or study design, negative results. Relevant topics may or may not be accepted, subject to the Chief Editor’s decision. Authors are advised to carefully read the author guidelines, especially the details about the ethics in publishing and manuscript style. The Editorial Office reserves the right to change the type of submission of a manuscript, based on the reviewers’ comments and the Editor’s decision.
1. General

Journal of Food and Health (JOFH) is an open access journal in the field of foods, diets, probiotics, health and fitness. JOFH offers an important media or forum for researchers and academies to exchange the latest results from such research areas. JOFH provides quality service, including the submission process and the rapid double blind peer review, and only published online.

Aims and Scope:
- Food and Nutrition Security
- Food Sciences and Technology
- Food Safety and Halal Food
- Bioactive Compounds
- Pharma-Medicine
- Physiology and Biochemistry
- Clinical Nutrition and Dietetics
- Prebiotics and Probiotics
- Public Health
- Fasting and Health
- Sport and Fitness

Receiving types of manuscripts which include, original manuscripts or original research, literature review, systematic review and or meta-analysis, case report, supplements, commentaries and reports on research methodology or study design, negative results.

Relevant topics may or may not be accepted, subject to the Chief Editor’s decision. Authors are advised to carefully read the author guidelines, especially the details about the ethics in publishing and manuscript style.

The Editorial Office reserves the right to change the type of submission of a manuscript, based on the reviewers’ comments and the Editor’s decision.

2. Ethics in Publishing

2.1 Originality

Manuscripts submitted by the author to the JOFH must be of original work. JOFH is strongly against plagiarism and self-plagiarism and will ensure that all manuscripts submitted should be free from any plagiarism, falsifications, or omission of significant material. Authors must not submit papers of the same work to multiple journals at the same time. Duplicated submission papers detected by the JOFH will render immediate rejection. Please cite or quote appropriately if work/words of others are being used. Avoid excessive self-citation as it might violate the reviewing process. Paper received must have a Turnitin plagiarism score below 25%.

2.2 Authorship

All authors that are named on the manuscript must have made contribution to the paper, whether in the design and/or analysis and interpretation of the data/or drafting of the paper. All authors must have critically reviewed and approved the contents of the final version of the manuscript submitted for publication.

2.3 Conflict of Interest / Competing of Interest

Avoid any possible conflict of interest, or appearance of conflict of interest during the submission process. Since the JOFH practices peer-reviewing, authors are to be reminded not to nominate reviewers that are of the same institution and the authors of the manuscript. Authors should not nominate any individuals whom they know have already read and provided comments on the manuscript or a previous version of the manuscript since such knowledge would automatically violate the reviewing process. Suggested peer-reviewers will be considered in the reviewing process by the JOFH. If there is no response from the suggested peer-reviewers, the JOFH has the rights to nominate reviewers of the article.

2.4 Acknowledgement

Authors are required to disclose the source of funding of their research at the acknowledgment according to the following format: The research work was funded by Grant’s name (Grant No.). Contributors to the article other than the authors listed should be included under the Acknowledgment with specific necessary details.

2.5 Timeliness
Authors are advised to be prompt with their manuscript revisions. If in any complications that renders the Authors to delay their manuscript revision, the Authors are responsible to inform the Editorial Office to request for an extension (technical-editor@jofh.org). Manuscript with no returned revised submission will be withdrawn from JOFH in effect after the expiration date given. In any case that the author wishes to withdraw a manuscript that has been submitted for intended publication in JOFH, the author must inform the Editorial Office of their withdrawal with appropriate reasons.

2.6 Copyright Assessment and Permissions

The authors have the full copyright holder of the published papers in JOFH. Permission must be obtained from the copyright holder concerned if all or any parts of previously published illustrations are used. Authors hold the responsibility in obtaining the permissions and provide them to the JOFH.

2.7 Notes

2.7.1 Human and Animal Research

Protocol: Reports of human studies must include a statement that the protocol was approved by the appropriate institutional committee or that it complied with the Helsinki Declaration as revised in 1983.

2.7.2 Clinical Trials

Registration is required for all clinical trials that began after July 1, 2010. When preparing reports of randomized, clinical trials, refer to the checklist published in the CONSORT Statement (CONSORT Group. CONSORT: Transparent Reporting of Trials [Internet]. Ottawa (ON): CONSORT Group; 1996 [updated 2010; cited 2016 Oct 26]. Available from: http://www.consort-statement.org/). Include a CONSORT flow diagram as a manuscript figure summarizing participant flow with the sizes (n) of initial (recruited, enrolled) and final groups. Indicate in both the abstract and the manuscript text whether the outcomes reported are primary or secondary outcomes of the study.

2.7.3 Systematic Reviews and Meta-Analyses

For systematic reviews and meta-analyses, refer to the PRISMA checklist and include a PRISMA flow diagram as a figure in the manuscript (Liberati A, Altman DG, Tetzlaff J, Mulrow C, Gøtzsche PC, Ioannidis JPA, Clarke M, Devereaux PJ, Kleijnen J, Moher D. PRISMA: Transparent Reporting of Systematic Reviews and Meta-Analyses [Internet]. Ottawa (ON): Ottawa Hospital Research Institute; 2009 [updated 2009; cited 2016 Oct 26]. Available from: http://www.prisma-statement.org/).

2.7.4 Animal Research

were euthanized. Describe control and experimental animals or participants, giving age, weight, sex, race, and for animals, breed or strain. Include the supplier of experimental animals.

2.7.5 Health Research

Reporting checklists of CONSORT, PRISMA, and ARRIVE checklists can be uploaded as supplemental material for the benefit of reviewers and editors.

3. Manuscript Format and Structure

Please read this section carefully to avoid any violation of the submission process. Papers that are prepared accordingly with minimal errors and conform to the format and style will likely to ensure efficient communication and fast track of publication. If required, the JOFH Editorial Office will return the manuscript to the Authors for scientific and editorial correction in which will delay the publication time. Please use the template provided as a guide in manuscript preparation.

The Editor reserves the right to make literacy corrections and to make suggestions to improve brevity. Charges may apply depending on the quality and preparation of the manuscript. Hence, authors are reminded to proof-read their manuscript before submitting their manuscript for the final review to the Editorial Office.

3.1 Manuscript File Type

3.2 Language

The Language used is English, either UK or US. Do not have a mixture of both languages. Manuscripts must be written in clear and comprehensible English in the correct format. Authors whose native language is not English are strongly advised to have their manuscript proof read or checked by an English-speaking colleague prior to submission. Please note that multiple language errors detected will render the manuscript to be rejected.

3.3 Title Page Information

Title – Concise and Informative. Please Write in Sentence Case.

Author names, Affiliations and ORCID – All accredited authors’ names must be correctly spelled, written as the published author name in a single line. Names are to be written in the format of last name first, followed by the first and middle names initials. For example, New, C.Y. Present the authors’ affiliation addresses accordingly below the names of the authors. Provide full postal address without any abbreviations. Indicate all affiliations with number superscripts, placed in front of the last name and the similar number superscript must be indicated in front of the addresses. Provide each respective authors their ORCID.

Corresponding Author – The corresponding author must be clearly indicated with an asterisk (*) in front of the author’s name. Provide only the email address of the corresponding author, written after the affiliations’ address, indicated. Only one (1) corresponding author is allowed.

3.4 Manuscript Style

Double-spaced, typed using 12-point Times New Roman with a margin of 1 inch on all four sides. Provide continuous line numbers in the manuscript. Headings of the sections are to be bold and appear on its own separate line. Subheadings/subsections should be given a brief heading, italicize and appear on its own separate line. Authors are advised to minimize subsections. Please number the headings and subheadings accordingly.

1. Heading
1.1 Sub-Heading
1.1.1 Sub Sub-Heading

The manuscript should include:
Abstract – A summary of the manuscript which includes the specific aims, brief description of method, main results and conclusions in a single paragraph. No references should be included in the abstract. Non-standard or uncommon abbreviations should be avoided but if essential they must be defined at their first mention in the abstract itself. A structured abstract that contains 150 to 300 words, is written in complete sentences.

Keywords – A minimum of 3 and a maximum of only 5 words allowed indicating the essentials of the research work. Separate each keyword with a comma (,) in a single line.

Introduction – A brief literature review and previous relevant work with references. Include the objectives of the research work at the last paragraph clearly.

Materials and Methods – Precise methods should be described to ensure reproducibility. Published or known methods should be cited correctly and if, there are any modifications, it should be noted.

Results – Clear and concise. Presentation of results with tables and figures may improve its clarity. Avoid presenting repetition results in writing and in the form of tables and figures.

Discussion – Explains the significance, impact and consequences of the results. Results and discussion may be combined or separated.

Conclusion – It is not mandatory. However, if discussion is too long, authors are advised to provide a conclusion to sum up of results interpretation with suggested recommendations at last paragraph of the discussion section. Avoid repetition of the points made in the preceding sections.

Conflict of Interest – Disclose any potential conflict of interest appropriately.

Acknowledgement – Indicate any source of funding or other contributors to the work in a single paragraph and kept at the minimum.

References – Citation in text.

All references in the text must be listed in the references section with the names of authors, arranged alphabetically. It is the duty of the author to ensure all references cited to be listed, COMPLETE and ACCURATE without ANY LOSS of information required by the Journal. Please ensure all references cited within the text must also be present in the reference list (and vice versa).

Reference Style:

- Single Author: The author’s name (without initials) and the year of publication.
- Two Authors: Both authors’ name and the year of publication, e.g., (Duan and Su, 2005).
- Three or More Authors: First author’s name followed by ‘et al.’ and the year of publication. Citation may be made directly (or parenthetically). Group of references should be listed chronologically according to the year of publication, e.g., “as demonstrated (Saleh et al., 2014; New et al., 2016). Malcolm et al. (2015) have recently studied…”.
- Same group of authors with the same first author that has multiple publications within the same year should be indicated with an alphabet after the year of publication, e.g., Son, Tang, and Premarathne (2015a); Son, Tang and Premarathne (2015b)
- Different group of authors, but by the same first author that has multiple publications within the same year is cited as such: e.g., Son, Tang, Premarathne et al. (2015) [more than 3 authors]; Son, Premarathne and Aimi (2015) [3 authors].

Reference List

All references should be arranged alphabetically by authors’ name, listing all authors, year of publication, the full title of articles and journals, publisher and the necessary information (Examples given). Journal names are not to be abbreviated, typed in full, capitalized. Please cross-check the references in text and in the list to ensure similarity.

Examples:

- Journal
Microwave Power Institute Journal, 27(4), 199-204.

Book

Chapter in Book

Proceedings/Seminars/Conferences Papers

Internet

Report

Thesis

Patent

Standards

Newspapers

3.5 Tables
Display the tables on separate pages in the manuscript after the reference section. The tables should be numbered consecutively in accordance with their appearance in the text. All tables must be supplied with a caption, placed on top of the table body and any table notes must be placed below the table body with proper indicators to the contents in the table body (if needed). Captions are written in the format of: Table 1.

3.6 Figures
Display the figures on separate pages in the manuscript after the reference section. Figures should be numbered consecutively in accordance with their appearance in the text. Scanned or digital photographs should be in high resolution, minimum 300. Caption every figure at the bottom of the figures followed by the figure notes. Caption are written in the format of: Figure 1.

3.7 Footnotes
Footnotes should be kept to a minimum. They should be numbered in the text indicated by superscript numbers and kept as brief as possible.

3.8 Miscellaneous
Do not use ' & ' in your manuscript. Abbreviations should be used sparingly and only if a lengthy name or expression is repeated throughout the manuscript, and never in the title. The abbreviated name or expression should be cited in full at first usage, followed by the accepted abbreviation in parentheses. Metric SI Units should generally be used. Chemical formulae and solutions must specify the forms used, e.g., anhydrous or hydrated, and the concentration must be in clearly defined units. Bacteria names should be italicized, typed full for the first mentioned and the generic name should be contracted to a single letter if repeated. Please ensure the correct bacteria names are written.

4. After Acceptance

If your paper is accepted for publication, authors will be prompted with an email notification on the decision of your manuscript with the acceptance letter. The accepted manuscript is subject to a minimum charge of USD 50 (for foreigners) and 750,000 IDR for Indonesian. This is the article processing charge (APC) used to cover the publishing costs, website and administrative. The editor may decide to waive this charge in exceptional circumstances.

The Editor will perform a technical check on the manuscript deeming its quality and preparation of the manuscript. If necessary, the article will be returned to the author for further clarification. Charges may apply.

4.1 Proof Corrections

The paper will then proceed into production once the necessary documents have been received. Authors will be notified by email when the PDF proof is ready for final checking before publication. Proofs must be returned to the Production Editor within two (2) days of receipt. Authors are given the flexibility of correcting the proof once before the finalized proof is released. Subsequent corrections will be charged. Hence, authors are reminded to perform a thorough checking on the galley proof.

4.2 Article Retraction/Removal

If author wishes to retract/remove their article, the author may write into the Editorial Office and stating their justification. However, this action is highly discouraged by the JOFH once the JOFH had accepted the manuscript for publication. The JOFH has provided full publishing services and the Journal is only able to recoup this investment through the APC. Any retraction/removal does not detract from the publishing services provided or from our ongoing maintenance of the scientific record.

4.3 Article Withdrawal without Notification after Acceptance

This is a serious offence in the ethics of publishing. Authors should bear the responsibility of their manuscript submission and progress in a journal. If the JOFH does not receive any reply from the author after acceptance within two weeks, the JOFH assumes that the author withdraws their article. This will affect the author’s reputation as JOFH adheres to the ethics of publishing seriously.

4.4 Types of Manuscripts Not Accepted

- Researches or Experiments that are statistically underpowered.
- Hypothesis or proposal papers.
- Previously published work or derivatives thereof.
- Monographs.

5. Manuscript Submission Checklist

Please use the following list to perform the last checking of the manuscript prior sending it to the Journal for review.

- Cover letter prepared with 2 – 4 suggested reviewers.
- E-mail address for the corresponding author only.
- Full postal address, with no abbreviations.
- Manuscript complied in a single MS Word processor file.
- Proof-read finalized version of the manuscript.
- Manuscript has been ‘spell-checked’ and ‘grammar-checked’.
- All figures captioned.
- All tables captioned (including table notes).
- References are in the correct format for this Journal.
- Manuscript Submission Form Filled.
